

Johnson Wins Texas Battle

Marylanders Open Week's Primary Slate

Free Staters Vote Today, W. Virginia Ballots Tomorrow

[By The Associated Press]

The quickening pace of national election year politics finds six states holding primary elections this week.

Balloting is scheduled Monday in Maryland and on Tuesday in Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Florida and New Mexico. The Florida balloting for state offices is preliminary to a May 29 presidential primary.

Political highspot of the past weekend was Sen. Lyndon Johnson's sweeping victory over Gov. Allan Shivers for control of the state Democratic party in Texas.

Johnson, the U. S. Senate Democratic leader, is pledged to work for party unity in the national campaign. Shivers has shown little enthusiasm for most of the Democrats who figure as presidential prospects. The governor has indicated he might again line up behind President Eisenhower, as he did in 1952 when Eisenhower carried the state.

Rayburn Hails Johnson Victory

The Shivers-Johnson battle for control of Texas' 56-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention was decided in 5,000 precinct conventions Saturday.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, another Shivers target, termed the outcome "an overwhelming victory for the Democratic party."

Meanwhile, the two active candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination — Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee — were out seeking votes in the forthcoming primaries.

Stevenson was in California, where he faces a contest with Kefauver June 5. The senator wound up a brief swing through Indiana.

Popularity Contest

Kefauver is unopposed in Tuesday's Indiana primary, the first presidential preference vote there since 1928. Eisenhower is unopposed on the Republican side. No write-in votes will be permitted.

The relative showing of Eisenhower and Kefauver may indicate the political sentiments of Indiana's big farm population.

In Monday's Maryland voting, Eisenhower and Kefauver are opposed by delegate slates which would go to the party conventions unopposed. The big contests here are for senatorial nominations. Former Sen. Millard E. Tydings faces four opponents on the Democratic ballot and Sen. John Marshall Butler has two Republican challengers.

U.S. Will Review Its Disarmament Policy

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—President's assistant Harold E. Stassen said today the United States soon will embark on a broad review of its disarmament policies. He said he expects Russia to do likewise.

Returning by plane from United Nations disarmament talks in London, Stassen said another look at arms control policies is called for in the light of the London sessions. Stassen, who is President Eisenhower's top adviser on disarmament, said he will report to the President in a few days. They will review the recent negotiations and presumably map plans for restudy of American policy.

DENVER, May 6 (AP)—A signed affidavit by condemned murderer John Gilbert Graham, 24, requests that he be put to death in Colorado's gas chamber as soon as possible.

A District Court jury of seven men and five women convicted Graham Friday of killing his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55, by dynamiting a commercial airliner. The crash took 44 lives.

Romance By Mail Stands Big Test

CAIRO, Egypt, May 6 (AP)—The romance of two young lovers who had never seen each other stood the test of a face-to-face meeting in Cairo's airport this morning.

Laurence Shaker, shapely, green-eyed, 22-year-old Cairo secretary, fell into the arms of American radio announcer Carroll H. Pederson Jr., 26, when he arrived here to claim the sweetheart he had wooed and won through letters and tape recordings.

Laurence agreed to marry Pederson after an exchange of letters, photos and tape recordings and they expect to be married in Cairo's All Saints Cathedral next week. Then they will honeymoon at Mersa Matruh, a spot on the Mediterranean where Cleopatra once bathed.

U.S. Proposes Atlantic Cabinet

PARIS, May 6 (AP)—The United States today proposed a "cold war general staff" to chart the battle with Moscow for the minds and hearts of mankind.

This emerged in early morning discussions of the NATO foreign ministers.

Secretary of State Dulles told the ministers he and President Eisenhower will put the United States into such a "general staff" if the other Atlantic Powers do.

Dulles' view is the Kremlin has unified command in the cold war. The Western world has no adequate machinery for thrashing out common policy and fostering a sense of unity and solidarity.

The plan was one of the first handed to the "three wise men," a committee of foreign ministers set up yesterday to explore the political and economic extension NATO. The three are Lester B. Pearson of Canada, Gaetano Martino of Italy and Halford Lange of Norway.

The U.S.-proposed general staff would be a top-level "Atlantic Cabinet," a panel of leaders of rank second only to the foreign ministers.

The jurors recommended Graham, the father of two small children, be executed, and in his affidavit written in the presence of witnesses in his jail cell yesterday, Graham said, in part:

"I accept the verdict of the jury and desire that it be carried out with all convenient speed. This is my wish. I have been advised by my attorneys that under the law the sentence of death requires that it be appealed to the highest (court) of this state.

"I desire to waive that provision of law."

The crew-cut, boyish-appearing convicted slayer was pictured as resigned to death. But his half-sister, Mrs. Helen Hablutzel, 30, of Spennard, Alaska, wrote in a copy-righted story for the Denver Post: "Jack is suffering. There is hell back of those dark eyes."

She added: "I love him. I can't hate him. But he's guilty—and I want him to die."

UN Secretary Praised Upon Return To U.S.

Hamarskjold Says Future To Determine Outcome Of Mission

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 6 (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold returned today to a chorus of praise and certainty of Security Council approval for his month's Middle East negotiations on Israeli-Arab peace.

He told newsmen and diplomats at New York's Idlewild Airport that it is now up to the Middle East governments to make good on cease-fire pledges he has obtained from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

"Only the future can show what, thanks to the good will of the governments concerned, may grow out of this unique assignment," he said.

He declined to answer questions about his final report to the Council before he makes it public later this week. The extent of the cease-fire pledges will not be generally known until then.

Only one minor clash, on the Jordan-Israeli line, was reported this morning—the first in 48 hours.

Security Council meetings are scheduled tentatively for the week of May 13. This will give the 11 Council powers time to study the report and ask their home capitals for instructions.

At that time it will also be learned how far-reaching are plans of Hammarskjold and his truce supervisor chief, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, to beef up U.N. observer patrols, withdraw opposing border forces and set up barriers along demarcation lines.

Representatives of the Western Big Three and the Yugoslav president of the Security Council were at the airport to meet him, as was Hans Engen of Norway, president of the Economic and Social Council.

Present also were representatives of the Middle East countries. They had seen him off April 4 on his mission, ordered by the Security Council. But no Russian was on hand, nor was the Jordan representative who normally is stationed in Washington.

Poland's Deputy Premier Ousted

VIENNA, Austria, May 6 (AP)—Jacob Bernan, considered by many the No. 1 man of Communist Poland, has resigned as deputy premier because of his "mistakes."

A Tass message broadcast by Moscow said Bernan also stepped down from his job on the Politburo of the Polish United Workers (Communist) party.

Bernan's ouster climaxed the current purge in the Polish government. Six Cabinet ministers and three top justice officials have been booted from power.

However, none of those removed had the stature of Bernan. He was reputed to have influence far beyond that normally held by a deputy premier in Eastern Europe.

Bernan's ouster surprised students of communism in Vienna. So far as is known here, he had not been under attack in the Polish press and radio.

Some officials believed his ouster may have been a post mortem kick at Boleslaw Beirut, Poland's top Communist who died March 12. Bernan was considered Beirut's right-hand man.

The Tass message did not detail any charges against Bernan.

Pedestrian Crushed

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—An 18-foot stone column weighing about two tons fell from the second story of a building on the near North Side today, killing a pedestrian in the street.

Tatarnikov's only complaints about life in the United States were that the American press has consistently misspelled his last name and that barmen in some places refuse to serve him beer because he still lacks three months of being 21.

Tatarnikov's two well-dressed and healthy Russian seamen companions joined in a chorus of approval of his "thank you."

These three of the four Soviet sailors from the Red tanker Tuapse—who firmly announced April 27 to Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin's face their intention to remain permanently in this country—came to Baltimore specially for this interview. Their residences are a carefully kept U. S. government secret. All three say they want it that way.

It was the first such interview these three have granted since on April 7 five of their companions left the United States in circumstances which witnesses before the Senate Internal Security Committee—and the seamen who remain here—described as "kidnaping."

Suspended U. S. Employee Tells Of Soviet Offer

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—A federal government employee under security suspension without pay said today he was approached by a man he identified as a Soviet Embassy official to gather material on the American aircraft industry.

Sidney Hatkin, 40, of Washington, said he was contacted after placing an advertisement in a newspaper seeking employment. He said he rejected the offer after reporting the whole affair to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Hatkin, a civilian economist for the Air Force, pointed up the incident in relating his tribulations in looking for work while his security suspension case awaited final action for a period of more than a year.

Details of Hatkin's case were disclosed Saturday in a New York speech by former Sen. Harry P. Cain as an instance of hardships inflicted upon such employees due to the time allowed to pass before final action is taken.

It also indicated, Cain said, the hazard the nation faces in throwing such persons open to Soviet approaches. While the agent in this case failed, Cain said, it does not follow that others "will not be successful in future attempts to find American spies to serve Soviet purposes."

Cain, former Republican senator from Washington, now is a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

In his address before the Jewish Labor Committee in New York, Cain withheld Hatkin's name. However, Hatkin's identity became known in Washington and he and his attorney, Joseph H. Freehill, held a news conference in Freehill's office today.

Sen. Butler To Propose Tax Study Commission

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md.) has said he will offer a resolution Tuesday setting up a Hoover-type commission which would make a study and recommend an overhaul of the nation's tax system.

"For years we have tolerated a system which piles tax upon tax and is full of inequities," the senator said Saturday. "It is a system which obstructs incentive and threatens the destruction of the middle class. It is also discriminatory in the low income groups."

Russian Seamen Express Gratitude For U.S. Hospitality

That "obstacles" preventing their return to Russia be removed. The three seamen told me the only "obstacle" is their own will to stay here and the protection they have requested. They considered their five companions were coerced. The fourth member of their quartet, Victor Solovyov, who couldn't come here has expressed himself previously in a similar vein.

"Tell Americans for me," said the oldest of the three, Ivankov-Nikolov, the former radio chief of the Soviet tanker, "that we'll apply all our efforts to be useful citizens in our new homeland. We want to be 100 per cent Yankees."

FACES CHARGES — John R. Roberts, 33, is shown in Queens County, N. Y., district attorney's office where he was questioned in connection with bigamy charges. Roberts came under escort from Los Angeles to explain his marriage to Dolores Pastonini April 1 while still married to Eileen Dunn Roberts, mother of his daughter, Loretta, 11, and son, Conrad, 3. Roberts was caught up with by the bevy of checks which the district attorney's office said bounced just after the couple left New York to honeymoon in California. Police said there was record of still another marriage to a girl in Maryland, which Roberts claimed had been annulled.

The Very Rev. Florian Calda, the church's anti-Communist pastor, who may have been an intended victim, said Tudorache was a "trained agent" of the Communists, and had been sent to make trouble.

Father Calda, who has made broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain for Radio Free Europe, said Tudorache "has threatened me and very many others of the congregation."

The shots also may have been intended for Romania's former Princess Ileana, sister of the late King Carol, who attended the midnight church procession with her husband.

Police described Tudorache as a "disgruntled dissenter" and a heavy drinker, who has lived in the neighborhood of St. Dumitru's Romanian Orthodox church for 20 years and rented the room across from the church five weeks ago.

He was not a member of the congregation, police said, but often visited the premises and knew most of the members.

The shooting was a tragic climax to the church's Easter pageant. In the Eastern rite, today is Easter.

400 Gather At Church — As midnight approached, some 400 persons, mostly of Romanian origin, gathered in and outside St. Dumitru's, on 89th Street west of Central Park.

Vasili Cucuia, 66, of Manhattan, was adjusting a podium at the head of the steps, and Father Galda, here only a year, was to emerge carrying a candle to chant:

"Come ye forth and receive the light."

Without warning half a dozen rifle shots cracked out from a window across the street.

Cucuia fell dead, a bullet in his chest, a few feet from where his wife stood in stunned horror.

The other victims, not seriously hurt, variously suffered head, neck, hand and side wounds.

Battleship Rams Escort Destroyer — NORFOLK, Va., May 6 (AP)—The battleship Wisconsin rammed the escort destroyer Eaton today in foggy weather about 50 miles off the Virginia capes. No casualties were reported.

The Navy said the collision occurred as the Eaton was making a turn to recover a crewman reported overboard. There was no word as to the fate of the crewman, who was not identified.

A Navy spokesman said the Eaton was in no immediate danger of sinking. The collision took the destroyer about 100 feet off her bow, slicing a deck-to-water-line gash 30 feet deep.

The Wisconsin's bow also was damaged, Atlantic Fleet headquarters here said.

Exhibition Raided — DAMASCUS, Syria, May 6 (AP)—Several Syrian University students last night raided an American government-sponsored atom for peace exhibition and damaged a big globe because it carried the name "Israel." Police arrested three raiders but released them later.

Motorboat Capsizes — INDIANA, Pa., May 6 (AP)—A coal miner and four children drowned last night when their outboard motorboat capsized on a small farm pond near here. Two other children clung to the overturned boat about four hours until they were rescued.

State police identified the victims as Eugene Fairman, 32; his son, Donald, 9; and Fairman's brother-in-law and sisters-in-law, Bobby Burns, 17; Edna Mae Burns, 12; and Charlene Burns, 8, all of Crekside, a small village about five miles northwest of here.

The two youngsters who escaped are Fairman's daughter, Connie, 6; and his brother-in-law, Ernest Burns, 11.

All of them rode around the pond for a short while, then, suddenly, the boat capsized.

Ernest managed to grab the end of the boat and hold on. He also reached out and grabbed 6-year-old Connie and pulled her to the end of

Gov. Shivers Loses State Demo Control

Senator's Triumph Means Delegation Will Back Nominee

DALLAS, Tex., May 6 (AP)—U. S. Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson today held control of the Texas Democratic party by virtue of a smashing victory over Gov. Allan Shivers for chairman of the state's delegation to the National Democratic Convention.

Johnson's 4-1 victory in yesterday's precinct conventions, first step in selecting delegates to the National Convention, also meant that the Texas delegation to this year's convention will be pledged to support the party's presidential nominee.

As delegation chairman in 1952, Shivers refused to support Adlai Stevenson. He backed President Eisenhower and carried the state into the Republican column.

Johnson's victory also gave added impetus to his "favorite son" candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Johnson Withholds Comment — Johnson, resting at his ranch home on the Pedernales River, 65 miles west of Austin, withheld comment today.

Aides said he had a good night's sleep and was in high spirits. They said he received telephone calls from all parts of the country congratulating him on his victory.

Shivers released a statement through the State Democratic Executive Committee in Austin saying:

"It is apparent from reports reaching my office that the Johnson forces won firm control of the May 22 state convention."

"The outcome is disappointing to me, of course, but my heart is full of gratitude to the tremendous number of good Texans who stood firm against great odds for states rights."

Union Labor "Carried Day" — "In key cities the effectively organized forces of union labor carried the day. I congratulate them upon a superior piece of organizational work and upon their victory."

Shivers has said that he would not be bound prior to this year's National Convention to support its nominee for president. He also had said that Adlai Stevenson was still unacceptable to him as the Democratic presidential candidate.

To Texas liberals and to those Democrats who considered themselves "loyalists" rather than liberals, yesterday's crushing rejection of Shivers and the triumph of Johnson meant the end of the underdog role which they have been forced to play since anti-New Deal conservatives gained control of the state Democratic machinery in 1944.

Retired Engineer, 74, Held For Killing Wife

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J., May 6 (AP)—A mild-mannered, pipe-smoking retired engineer killed his wife today, police said, after a long-smouldering dispute about moving back to Tennessee.

Mrs. Hazel Riegel, 74, was hit twice by the blunt edge of a carpenter's hatchet and then suffocated with a pillow and her husband's hands put over her face, according to Detective Capt. Anthony Lantosca.

Ross Milton Riegel, 74, was held on a charge of murder.

Police estimated Riegel's worth at $100,000. He has a $14,000-a-year income, they said.

Today's Chuckle — Two Texas oilmen walked into an auto showroom. "How much is that de luxe model over there?" asked one. "Ten thousand dollars."

"I'll take it," he said and took some thousand dollar notes out of his pocket. "Oh, no you don't," said his companion, taking out his wallet. "You paid for our lunch." (Copyright General Features Corp.)

Our young bride Marisa Pavan has been offered the same role that Susan Strasberg created in "The Dairy of Anne Frank" in the Broadway production in Rome. An Italian producer named Visconti has bought the rights and he wants Marisa to star in the play in Rome.

I talked long distance to Irene Dunne and she said she is very upset that anyone would think that she does not like young Richard Shinnick, who will marry her daughter Mary Frances Griffin.

Dr. Griffin, said was that he hoped Richard would not be drafted just when they're getting ready to be married," said Irene. "We couldn't have picked out a nicer boy, and Mary Frances has known him a long time."

When Marilyn Monroe goes to England she'll live at Ascot, just a few miles beyond Windsor Castle, in a house that belongs to Mrs. Patrick Coates Preedy, formerly Eileen Rosenthal, well known dress designer.

Cyd Charisse's star has never been brighter than since "Meet Me In Las Vegas." But before Cyd is a movie star, she's Mrs. Tony Martin, and so when Tony goes to England in June to make "Jeanie," the whole Martin family Cyd — Nicky, and Tony Jr. — go along, too.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: the Jeff Donnell-Aldo Ray separation will become official this week. Lawyers are working out a financial settlement. He went to see her on location but they were not able to settle their troubles.

On Thursday Johnnie Ray enters Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for surgery on his right foot. Dr. Irving Newman and Dr. Harold Masters will try to locate the wooden splinter that has caused a constant infection.

Dana Wynter returns from Rhodesia Tuesday, making the shortest trip to faraway Africa on record.

May 9 Anita Eksberg leaves for Florence to marry Anthony Steel. She'll be finished in "Hollywood Or Bust."

Sarah Churchill, who has been visiting in Hollywood for some weeks, suddenly left for England a few days ago.

Twenty-seven of Orry-Kelly's new paintings were sold within an hour. The same thing happened when Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein sponsored one of his New York exhibitions.

Mrs. Louis B. Mayer bought two, Gladys Knapp, three, Joseph Schenck, Gracie Allen and George Burns, Mrs. Jack Warner, Mrs. Al Hart, and many others were among the buyers.

Sen. Beall To Co-Sponsor Honor For French General

Sen. J. Glenn Beall said yesterday he will co-sponsor a Senate Resolution designed to memorialize Count Rochambeau, the French general who took part in an important portion of Maryland history during the Revolutionary War.

Sen. Beall, at his office in Washington, said the resolution, which will be submitted by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), calls for the District of Columbia's East 14th Street bridge over the Potomac River to be named "The Rochambeau Memorial Bridge."

The drafting of the measure is being timed to coincide with the 175th anniversary of the year in which Lt. Gen. Jean-Baptiste Donatien de Vimeur, Count de Rochambeau, crossed the Potomac River near the site of the present 14th Street bridge on his way to aid Gen. George Washington's forces at what was to be the battle of Yorktown.

Church Groups Plan Conference At Oakland

Sessions Scheduled Next Saturday

OAKLAND — "A Triangle for Anne" will be the theme of Dr. A. Stauffer Curry's address in a church conference to be held next Saturday at Southern High School.

The conference will bring together church workers from Churches of the Brethren in Northern West Virginia and Western Maryland and will get under way at 10 a. m. (EDT).

Dr. Curry, feature speaker for the conference, is editor of church school publications for the Church of the Brethren with offices in Elgin, Ill.

One of the annual features of this so-called 4-in-1 conference is the workshop for vacation Bible school teachers. This year there will be demonstration lesson on the use of the Judson tests for the current theme, "The Bible." Separate sessions are planned for teachers of kindergarten, primary, junior and junior-high classes.

Other sectional meetings will tackle the special problems of church treasures and finance boards, local moderators and recreation leaders. The conference schedule allows for two hour-and-a-half periods for these sections.

Rev. Marshall Wolfe, professor emeritus at Bridgewater College, will lead one sectional group in a study of the unique doctrines and practices of the Church of the Brethren.

Other leaders in the sectional meeting include Rev. Guy Wamp, newly appointed executive secretary of the Southeastern Region; Rev. Arthur Scrogum, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren, Cumberland; Rev. William F. Smith, Southeastern regional associate secretary, and Mrs. Dessie Miller Myers of Harrisonburg, Va.

While the conference is under the sponsorship of the Church of the Brethren, church workers from other denominations would be welcomed to any of the sessions. A book exhibit will feature quantities of Bible school materials for sale. Lunch will be served in the school cafeteria.

•'Rocky' Wins Again If Decision Holds

So many such announcements have been forgotten later that the sports world's skepticism toward Rocky Marciano's decision to retire from the prize ring without a fight is understandable.

Well, maybe not without a fight. Marciano says he debated the step for a long time with his wife and that it was the attractions of family life that finally persuaded the heavyweight champion to step down undefeated in a professional career that covered 49 fights. It has even been said that in this final instance the "decision" was in favor of the Rock's wife and three-year-old daughter.

The sports world, which knew Marciano as a savage fighter in the ring, also knew him as a gentle, pleasant fellow outside the roped area that was his place of business. It also knew that at the end of his career he is sound of mind and body. Apparently he is also financially sound—through careful handling of his share of ring winnings grossing something around $2 million.

The tax troubles of Joe Louis, another heavyweight champion who in his days drew fabulous purses, are fresh in mind. But Marciano, recognizing the possibility that his plans might go wrong, said that business reverses alone would never cause him to return to the ring.

In view of the lack of talent in the heavyweight boxing division, there is a certain dignity in Marciano's decision to quit. He could have chosen to remain active so as to grab off an occasional easy purse against a hopeful unworthy of his mettle.

Everything considered, it's in line to hope that the champion will run his string to an even 50 victories by making his decision stick.

These Days

The Raiders

In most companies in this country, its success, in a competitive market, is attributed to the management group who gave their fruitful years working for it, and, of course, were adequately compensated.

Suddenly it is noticeable that there is unusual activity in the stock. The unusual activity would indicate that the company is being raided. Investigation does not always disclose who is buying the stock in quantities and at prices which would indicate that the object is to gain its control. Often such well-managed and well-established corporations have a considerable cash position and the raiders figure that even if they overpay for the stock, they can get their money back by siphoning off the ready cash of the company.

Often these stock purchases are in "street" names; that is, a brokerage house makes the purchase in its own name but does not disclose the correct owner who may be an American or a European who may have his funds in Switzerland which refuses to disclose the names of depositors. Sometimes the true owner of the money is an underworld character who has managed to transfer "hot" money to Europe where it becomes legitimate money. "Hot" money is money upon which no income taxes have been paid. It is very difficult to transfer such money to legitimate business but it can be done by the intermediate step of getting the "hot" money out of the United States and then investing it in American industry through corporations registered in Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Monaco, Tangier, and a number of other countries, including Canada.

The raider then gets enough stock in his possession either to control the company or to seat a number of his agents on the board of directors. These agents may or may not know the actual owner of the stock but they are associated with the front man who usually has a reputation of being a smart operator, particularly in the accumulation of reservoirs of capital for investment. Often a 20 to 40 per cent ownership will produce control, depending upon the organization of the business. In some of the largest corporations, the control is vested in directors who only own enough stock to qualify, but the raiders cannot get into these enormous corporations in good years because in a proxy fight, they generally lose out.

Of course, whoever owns the stock of a company has a right to control it. Normally, men of means or groups possessing capital buy into operations; they are put on the board of directors, and as their object is to make money, they usually do not wreck the enterprise, although the early history of railroading in the United States is a gruesome picture of raiding and wrecking for a profit.

The current danger in raiding falls under two hypotheses:

1. A share, large or small, of the capital which the raiders employ is not their own, but represents underworld "hot" money, shifted from the United States to some other country where it is legitimized by becoming the possessor of a foreign corporation whose true ownership is not disclosed.

The reason why such an hypothesis must be given every consideration is that otherwise those engaged in, let us say, the narcotic traffic, which must be an unreported cash transaction, have no way of legitimizing their money. The sudden influx of capital for raiding purposes would create a suspicion that such funds have become legitimized.

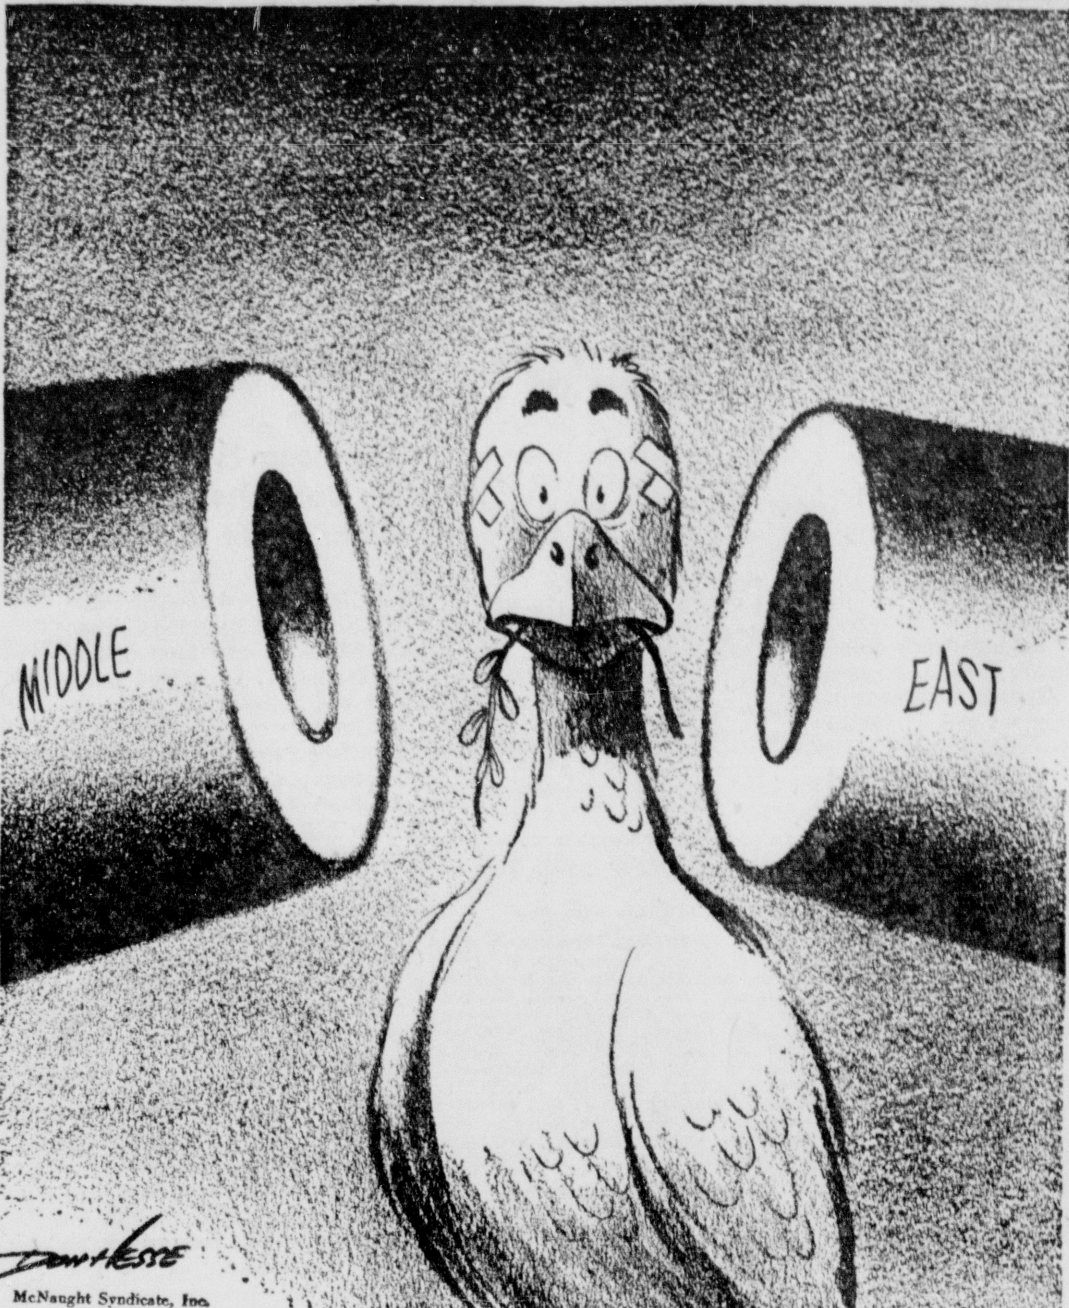

2. There are no reliable figures on the movement of gold from Soviet Russia into the Western world, except for a comparatively small shipment to London. Yet it is known that Soviet Russia has been mining gold in several Siberian fields, particularly the Lena field. Therefore the hypothesis must be considered as within reason that some of the undisclosed accounts may be Russian or satellite investments through European intermediate companies in American companies, not only with the object of controlling them but with the more important object of causing havoc in the market at a chosen moment.

No investigation of either of these hypotheses has yet taken place nor is there any satisfactory data on the subject, except two sets of facts:

1. Raiding is increasing in American corporations by persons whose financial responsibility does not gibe with the amounts of money used in-raiding;
2. There are about 11 countries with corporate laws and tax arrangements which lend themselves to raiding.

Warnings About Missiles Race Are Disregarded

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON
In this era of complacency, the most cogent warnings are blithely disregarded. For example, former Assistant Secretary of the Air Force Trevor Gardner has written two articles in Look magazine citing undeniable facts to prove that this country is losing both the air power and the missiles race to the Soviet Union. Hardly anybody has paid much attention.

Perhaps more attention would have been paid if it had been known that the second Gardner article, on the missile race, was written in the hope that it would be read by President Eisenhower, and that the President would recognize in it a special, hidden meaning.

Briefed On Problems

The story goes back to last November, when the President, at a meeting of the National Security Council at Camp David, again took up the reins of government after his heart attack. At the Camp David meeting, the President was briefed on the major problems confronting his administration. Gardner, together with Deputy Secretary of Defense Reuben Robertson and one or two others, was assigned to brief the President on the missile problem.

The President was told how, in mid-summer, almost certain knowledge had come into the hands of the government that the Soviets were already testing medium range missiles. He was told how a decision had very recently been taken to start a new missiles program to attempt to match the Soviet achievement in the medium range field. And the cumbersome organization of the whole missile program was described to the President.

After his briefing, the President asked certain angry questions.

And this is why Gardner's second article, "Our Guided Missile Crisis," should have had a special significance to the President. Towards the end of the article, there appears the following paragraph, which Gardner italicized:

Questions Unanswered
"Why did it take from August to November to make a decision to proceed with the medium range missile? Why is the present organization so filled with committees? Why wasn't one man put in charge of the entire program at an early stage... Won't inter-service rivalries and the multiplicity of programs result in a slow-down of intercontinental ballistic missile progress? Why isn't the ICBM given a clear top priority over other missiles programs?"

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

If Harriman is a Park Avenue Truman what's Truman? The answer is home-work for an evicted tenant.

Would you call the old Missouri Waltzer a Midwest Arthur Murray? We know that Estes Kefauver is a Berkshire Daniel Boone. What's Adlai Stevenson's rating in the nomenclature of comparative tabulation? If he's an Illinois Henry Clay we'll have to check the Great Lakes again. There should be five.

William Jennings Bryan was the Great Commoner but never picked up any agates. Back at the Dayton monkey trial I said Bill mistook a loud voice for an argument and a gesture for corroboration.

But Bill never did remind anybody of anybody else. How is it there are no facsimiles of Washington or Lincoln around? There isn't a politician talking today who doesn't think it was Abe's Gettysburg speech that lasted three days.

We'll say one thing about the White House opposition. There isn't a Democrat on the loose who thinks Ike reminds him of the next president.

Events Vindicated Millard Tydings, First Real McCarthyism Casualty

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The first real casualty of McCarthyism comes up today before the people of Maryland. He is Millard Tydings, the Democratic senator who headed the committee to investigate McCarthy's original charges of 205 card-carrying Communists in the State Department and who, when he refused to knuckle under McCarthy, found himself defeated for re-election.

McCarthy called upon his Chicago Tribune friends for campaign funds, collected $10,000 from Texas oil tycoon Clint Murchison and wife, circulated a fake photo of Tydings shaking hands with Earl Browder and managed to knock Tydings out of the Senate.

No less than FDR had tried to defeat him in 1938, but the vogue of McCarthyism was such that the senator from Wisconsin succeeded where the President of the United States had failed.

So the people around the nation today will be watching Maryland to see whether Tydings will be voted vindication.

Whether he is or not, the events of the last two years have certainly given vindication.

Roll Call of "Communists"

Owen Lattimer, the Johns Hopkins professor whom McCarthy smeared and Tydings defended, has now been cleared by the courts.

Val Lorwin, the State Department official whom McCarthy named as a Communist and who was indicted for perjury when he denied it, has now been cleared.

The Justice Department appeared in court to state it had no case. Edward Lamb, the Toledo radio-TV owner, smeared by the FCC as a Communist, has now shown that the witnesses accusing him were phonies. One has been convicted of perjury.

Jacob Burck, the Chicago Sun-Times cartoonist accused by the late Paul Crouch of being a Communist, has been exonerated. Crouch, the professional witness for the Justice Department who also tried to smear Aubrey Williams, former Youth Administrator, and Clifford Durr, brother-in-law of Justice Hugo Black, was so discredited that the Justice Department dropped him.

Abraham Chasnow, who was dropped by the Navy Department as a security risk, was rehired by the Navy with an apology.

Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, who was hauled up before McCarthy's committee and charged with being a Communist, has been rehired by the Army.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, the Negro diplomat who was investigated by the Justice Department for seven months, was cleared.

Not all these cases were attributable directly to McCarthy. But it was his tactics which created such a terrorist atmosphere that in some cases Attorney General Brownell almost outdid him, and which caused Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution, to warn:

"The Eisenhower security system has dropped the morale of scientists so low that our world leadership in atomic research is in danger."

That statement, made two years ago, was all too prophetic of the current fact that Russia appears to be ahead of us in hydrogen research and may be ahead of us in guided missiles.

How much harm was done to the nation during the period of McCarthyism may not be known for some time. Meanwhile it will be interesting to see how the people of Maryland vote on one of the few senators who had the courage to stand up against it, and got defeated for his pains.

Radio Politics

There's a good, though unadvertised, reason why Colonel McCormick's Chicago Tribune radio station WGN is pulling out of the Mutual Broadcasting System. It's to get out of a $300,000 annual contract with Jim Petrillo and the Musicians Union.

If the station gets off the network it can get out of this contract. And thereby hangs a tale:

Original chief reason for the musicians' contract was that the late Colonel McCormick liked to expound on Saturday nights over his radio station and he needed an array of fiddles, bass viols, etc., to play in the background. The alleged "climax" of the McCormick hour was a rather dull dissertation on military weapons, isolation, and foreign policy which the Colonel read in monotonous voice to his audience.

But now that the Colonel has passed on to other battlefields, WGN, which stands for "World's Greatest Newspaper," doesn't need all the orchestration. So the Tribune is dumping the Mutual network to get out of the Petrillo contract.

Meanwhile Thomas F. O'Neill, vice president of General Tire and chief owner of Mutual, is dickering with station WCFL, which stands for Chicago Federation of Labor and is owned by AFL-CIO. It'll be a strange combination.

Bombs and Drills

The current series of H-bomb explosions in the South Pacific will be the most devastating yet. This was tipped off on the eve of the Eniwetok tests by Connecticut's Congressman James Patterson, a member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee. He predicted that "the explosion scheduled for about May 1 will surpass in power any nuclear detonation thus far."

Up to now, history's biggest bomb was exploded March 1, 1954. This had the explosive force of 17,000,000 tons of TNT and formed a mushroom cloud over 100 miles in diameter. It was a larger explosion than our atomic scientists expected, and scattered atomic ash on the nearest observers, including the much-publicized Japanese fishing crew....

Largest hydrogen explosion set off by the Russians has been estimated by our intelligence at 13,000,000 tons of TNT.... Meanwhile tiny particles of radioactive fallout from both Russian and American hydrogen blasts are still drifting down to earth years afterward. These particles, however, are considered harmless.... The Texas oil boys have sheepishly discovered that the Russians are ahead of them in developing oil drills. The Soviets have designed a turbo drill that works 10 times as fast as conventional drills used by American oil companies.... At least one company, Dresser Industries of Texas, has swallowed its pride and asked the State Department to grant visas to Soviet engineers to come to Texas and show how to build their new turbo drill.

Stock Split-Ups

By Roger Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — So much appears in the newspapers today about stock split-ups, I believe readers will be interested to know why they occur.

Large Stockholders Will Die

Most of the split-ups are due to the fact that some very large stockholders have died and his stock must be sold to help the executors pay the estate taxes, which may approximate 50 per cent. As investors are much more willing to buy stocks at a low price, the brokers strongly advise split-ups in such cases to help the marketing of the stock. There is nothing unethical about this. No stockholder should basically be harmed or helped by such action. If it's a "two for one" split-up, and if you have 10 shares of stock, you are sent, without cost, 10 shares more. The capitalization is doubled, but the assets are the same. Hence, theoretically the value of your shares after the split-up should be only one half what it was before.

However, owing to the gullibility of investors and to their desire for low-priced stocks, the sum total of the "split-up" stock for a while is usually worth more than before there was any talk of a split. In addition, new investors in a split-up stock may be misled by the price of the shares. For instance, just before General Electric was split, it sold at about $125. It is now quoted at a price of around 60, which looks lower to most people. However, because the stock was split 3-for-1, this really represents a price of 180. The new lower price misleads investors who did not know of the split-up.

Prominent Stocks Since 1929

Without taking any position as to whether you should now buy stocks—or put your money into government bonds and await much lower stock prices—I submit the following interesting table, using stocks which have not been split since 1929, so as not to mislead you:

Company	1929	1952	Present
Am. Radiator	53 1/2	3 1/2	22
Am. Sugar	94 1/2	13	109
Anacosta	17 1/2	3	76
Curtiss-Wright	30 1/2	3	33
Elec. Stor. Batt.	10 1/2	12 1/2	27
New York Cent.	23 1/2	8 1/2	43
RCA	11 1/2	2 1/2	46
So. Cal. Edison	9 1/2	1 1/2	46

Many prominent bankers and businessmen believe that the government debt should be cut down. They may be right; but I see no vital reason for this. The U. S. Government is a corporation with definite assets, including about one-fourth of all the real estate in the United States! I understand that an inventory of these federal holdings can be secured from Senator Hayden of Arizona. This report shows that the government has over 400,000,000 acres of land, about 400,000 buildings which cost over $14,000,000,000, very valuable mineral rights, undeveloped water powers, and many other assets.

Furthermore, there are various ways of figuring the government debt. Also, in addition to its power to tax and the right to print money, which no other corporation has, the federal government keeps books in a very conservative manner. For instance, if a new post office is built in your community, it is not listed in the capital account, as every private corporation would do, but is charged to operating expenses.

Fly In The Ointment

Although there is no lack of security for government bonds and no fear of present outstanding U. S. Government bonds defaulting on their coupons, such bonds could suffer from inflation. I refer to the fact that the interest payment on government bonds is fixed. Hence, if the value of the dollar declines, the price of long-term government bonds might decline correspondingly. This danger can largely be offset, however, by buying short-term government bonds.

Inflation is a danger which all investors should carefully watch and fight. This is especially true in a democracy like ours, where congressmen and senators vote for inflationary measures just to get reelected. Such politicians are selling our country "down the river," or, as the Bible says, "for a mess of pottage." I know nothing about the possibilities of World War III; but if it comes, I forecast that our dollar will go to 35 cents. In that case, most government bond holders, yes — investors, employers, wageworkers, and housewives, too — will suffer.

Simple Tests May Determine Deafness In Child

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Statistics on deafness are changing. The disorder is becoming more common in the older group because more people are living to an age when hearing deficiencies occur. On the other hand, deafness is less frequent in youngsters today because ear infections are easier to treat with the wonder drugs.

Between these two extremes in age are the millions of working men and women who are subjected to industrial noises. Hearing is impaired, especially when working in a continuous racket without ear plugs.

The majority of hearing defects in children can be cured or arrested if discovered early. Parents should suspect the condition when the youngster becomes inattentive, assumes an awkward listening posture, or develops speech peculiarities. Other telltale signs are slowness in learning, shyness in playing with other children, and excessive fatigue.

Parents may try a simple hearing test. The youngster covers the left ear with the palm of his hand and stands with the right ear toward the mother or father. He is asked to repeat various numbers starting with seven and going down to one. After the right ear is tested, the child turns around and repeats the performance with the left ear exposed.

Other homemade hearing tests include listening to the tick of a watch or the click of two coins. The best method is the audiometer which measures how much hearing remains and how much is lost at different tone levels.

Loss of hearing in adults may progress so slowly it escapes detection for years. Deafness is suspected when the individual hears better in noisy places or not so well at church or while listening to a quiet radio or TV program. The same can be said if harsh sounds become actually painful or when head noises or ear ringing prove bothersome.

The defect becomes more obvious when it is difficult to carry on a conversation and the individual finds he is scowling, frowning, or cupping the ear while others are talking. When this stage is reached, a competent ear, nose and throat specialist ought to be consulted.

Never make the mistake of starting with an audiologist, hearing consultant, or acoustician who is trained to fit and sell only one particular hearing aid. Deafness may be due to wax that can be removed in two minutes, with restoration of hearing. Furthermore, some types of deafness are not improved with a hearing aid or the individual may be temperamentally unsuited to wear the device.

TOMORROW: Mixed emotions.

Yankees And Baltimore Orioles Drop Pirates Edge Cubs, 2-1

New Yorkers Blank Chisox Twice By 4-0

Ford Notches 4th, 49,016 See Games At Yankee Stadium

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees crushed the Chicago White Sox twice today, winning the first game 4-0 behind Whitey Ford's eight-hit pitching and taking the second, also by 4-0, with Rip Coleman and Jim Konstanty wielding the whitewash brush.

In recording his fourth victory without a defeat, Ford was backed up by home runs off the bats of Yogi Berra, with one on, and Hank Bauer. That was more than he needed.

The twin victories gave the Yankees a 2½ game lead over the Cleveland Indians who were rained out and 3 over the White Sox.

The Yankees confined all their scoring in the first game to the first four innings and from then on it was just a matter of Ford putting down the White Sox inning-by-inning.

Bill Martin scored the first Yankee run in the first when he beat out a bunt and went all around when Mickey Mantle doubled and Larry Doby made a bad throw-in. Then in the third, Berra hit his eighth homer of the year after Mantle had singled. That made it 3-0 and Bauer added his No. 6 in the fourth.

The largest crowd of the season, 49,016, was on hand.

The Yankees got to Harry Byrd, an ex-teamsmate, for two runs in the second inning of the second game on Bill Skowron's double, Gil McDougald's triple and Elston Howard's single. In the third, singles by Berra and Skowron and errors by Sam Esposito and Earl Battey gave the Yankees another run. The final score came in the eighth on a walk to Mantle, an infield hit and McDougald's single.

Souchak Beats Bolt By Stroke

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 6 (AP)—Tank-like Mike Souchak whipped a fearful course with his second sub par round in the stretch today to tie a 36-hole record and win the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament with 280 for 72 holes.

The ex-Duke football star took the lead after 5 holes of the final round, eased in with a 1-under-par 69 and captured the $5,000 first money with little difficulty.

This 134 for the last 36 holes—made with rounds of 65 and 69—tied the all-time record for the 7,100-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Tommy Bolt of Houston ended the tournament dramatically by missing an eagle by one foot on the 18th green that would have tied Souchak for first place.

The Texan wound up with a 71, one over par, for the last 18 holes and finished second with 281. He won $3,000.

Gardner Dickinson Jr., of Panama City, Fla., had 74 on the final 18 to win third place money of $2,000 with 285.

Zihlman, Barrelville, Hyndman Bag 2nd Wins

Grantsville Beats Centerville, 7-2, On Hansel's 5-Hitter

PVC Averages

Zihlman, Hyndman and Barrelville notched their second straight wins of the season and Grantsville's Sluggers, 1955 champions, defeated Centerville (Pa.) in Pen-Mar Baseball League games played yesterday at Mt. Savage.

Hyndman, Barrelville and Grantsville trailed 4-3 going into the 7th inning and chased three runs over the platter to sew up the decision. Ronnie Rice was returned the victor over Ralph Dickel.

Six of the nine hits credited to the Old G's were credited to Joe Langan, Ronnie Carter and Bobby Cassidy. Langan and Carter smacked a double and single each, Cassidy had a pair of one-base knocks and Dorcil Kline belted a triple.

Hyndman Gets 19 Hits
Hyndman hammered the offerings of two pitchers for 19 hits to whip Flintstone's Farmers by the score of 6-2.

Gene Stair was the "big gun" for Manager Lloyd Keller's outfit with a double and three singles, while Bob Bryant and Richard Emerick had three safeties each, one of the latter's being a three-bagger. Donald May pitched seven innings and received credit for the win. Robinette and Morris had two hits each for Flintstone. Marshall Fletcher was tagged with the loss.

Barrelville grouped two hits, both by Edgar Parsons, with seven walks and a hit batsmen for 12 runs in the third inning and trimmed Wellersburg to the tune of 15-8. Four Wellersburg pitchers saw action during the "big" inning.

Ed Dickel, the second of three hurlers used by Manager "Buck" Fiorita, got credit for the win. Glen Ford was the loser.

Parsons paced the hitters with a triple and two singles. Of the six hits credited to Wellersburg, two were doubles by Bob Cenna and Felker.

Hansel Hurls 5-Hitter
Don Hansel tossed a five-hitter and failed to give up an earned run as Grantsville crashed the win column at the expense of Centerville, 7-2. Errors paved the way for the Pennsylvanians' runs in the first and second innings.

Jack Mort sparked the Sluggers at the plate with four singles in five official trips while Bill See's double was the game's only extra base wallop. Two of Centerville's hits were collected by Mel Nee. Scores:

Triandos, Francona Supply Stick Punch In 6-2 And 4-3 Wins

BALTIMORE, May 6 (AP)—Gus Triandos and rookie Tito Francona supplied the batting punch today as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Detroit Tigers in both ends of a doubleheader, 6-2 and 4-3, before 19,473 fans.

The double loss dropped the Tigers into the American League cellar.

Triandos' fourth homer of the season coming off Steve Gromek with two teammates aboard in the fifth, broke a 2-2 tie and decided the opening contest. The 22-year-old Francona drove in three runs as Baltimore staved off the Bengals' late threats to capture the nightcap.

Ray Hoore and Erv Palica gained credit for the victories that enabled Pat Richards' Orioles to climb out of last place.

Both Baltimore twirlers needed relief assistance, notably from George Zvernick who worked in both contests—his 10th and 11th appearances of the season—to preserve Moore's second win and Palica's initial triumph.

Detroit's Earl Torgeson and Ray Boone kept the Tigers in contention in the second game with home runs, Boone's coming after Al Kaline singled in the eighth.

Ronnie Kline Victor, Second Game 6-6 Tie

Nightcap Is Halted By Darkness; Thomas, Skinner Hit Homers

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 today and then battled to a 6-6 tie in the second game which was called after seven innings because of darkness.

The Cubs averted a double loss when they pushed across a run in the bottom of the seventh after the Pirates had overcome a 4-0 lead and gone ahead on home runs by Bob Skinner and Frank Thomas in the sixth inning.

Ronnie Kline handcuffed the Cubs in the opener on six hits and scored the winning run when he singled with two outs off loser Paul Minner and came in on Gene Freese's double.

Bob Friend, Pittsburgh's star right-hander, started the second game with only two days rest and gave way to a pinch batter in the second inning after the Cubs clobbered him for three runs in the first on three hits including Ernie Banks' sixth homer of the year with one on.

The Cubs picked up another run in the third on singles by Gene Baker and Jim King and a sacrifice fly by Walt Morley.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"It's just a little something to amuse you while I'm picking out a coat."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What kind of people will you meet on your vacation? It all depends on you.

Take Your Charm With You

Going on a trip? Let's start talking about it by remembering a story.

Newcomers to a small village often asked the wise mayor what sort of people they would find in the village. The mayor always countered by asking what sort of people there were in the town the newcomer had left.

If the answer was that everyone was disagreeable and unfriendly, the mayor said that he feared the people in his village were quite the same. But if the answer was that the people in the old home town were pleasant and friendly, the mayor said enthusiastically that his townspeople were pleasant and friendly, too.

It's always true that so much depends on your own attitude.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved Dad, George W. Lowery, who passed away, May 7, 1946.
Time may pass and bring its changes
Fresh with every coming year;
But his memory will be cherished
In the hearts that hold him dear.
Sadly missed by
LULU LOWERY AND FAMILY
In memory of Louis Emerick who passed away 3 years ago today.
We have no fear of death since you have gone.
You always went ahead to give us strength.
You climbed the cliffs before you called us on.
And tested graveyards for their swinging lengths.
You crossed the stream to see how deep it ran.
And beckoned laughingly from the other side.
Whatever the unknown you were the span.
We had no dread of that which you had tried.
And now you have opened first death's door to wait
For us as you have done before.
Wife and Family

Landy To Race
In Fresno Mile

Disappointed John Landy vowed today after his shocking upset by fellow Australian Jim Bailey to better 3:58.7 in his next American mile race.

Bailey, a University of Oregon junior from Sydney, outtraced his fabled countryman at the Los Angeles Coliseum yesterday to set a new American record of 3:58.6. Landy was a short stride behind at 3:58.7.

Landy leaves tonight for San Francisco, where he will train for his appearance Saturday in a special mile event at the West Coast Relays in Fresno. The swift Aussie, who has had some trouble acclimating in California, said he'll be ready to top his effort against Bailey.

KEYSER—Information has been received by local relatives from the George Washington University Hospital, Washington, that Charles "Shack" Bolyard, well known local former sportsman and football and baseball official, underwent a major operation on Wednesday. He is getting along nicely but still not out of danger.

Charley Miller 3rd In Race At Reading

Charley Miller, Cumberland motorcyclist, won a 10-lap heat and finished third in the Class "B" final event in the Billy Huber Memorial races held yesterday at the Reading (Pa.) Fair Grounds.

Miller, who is sponsored by Jim Raupach, finished third to Levi Hull, Littlestown, Pa., in the final in which there were eight entries.

The local cyclist will compete in the races at Lancaster, Pa., next Sunday.

Evangeline League
To Transfer Negroes

NEW BIERIA, La., May 6 (INS)—All five negro players in the Class "C" Evangeline Baseball League today were ordered transferred as the result of a squabble over segregation.

The transfer order came following a meeting last night of league officials with league president Roy Mullins in New Iberia, La.

The meeting was called to settle a dispute over a game last Sunday between Baton Rouge and the Lafayette Oilers, an affiliate of the Chicago Cubs.

Baton Rouge cancelled the game when Lafayette wanted to use one of its negro players.

Mullins ruled that Baton Rouge forfeited the contest by refusing to play and Baton Rouge protested the decision.

Light Turnout Expected Today In Primary Vote

Mahoney-Tydings Race Leads Interest

Political observers expect only between 25 and 40 per cent of the 38,194 registered voters in Allegany County to cast ballots between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. today in the first county-wide voting by machines.

Last fall, the citizens of Lonaconing used voting machines for the first time in a special election to fill a vacancy in the town council. In April, Frostburg residents voted by machine in their biennial election of a mayor and council.

Comparatively little interest has been aroused in the state-wide primary election. There are only two decisions for the Republican voters and three for the Democrats.

Few Choices To Be Made

Republicans must decide whether to vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower for a second term as President or for an unopposed delegate to the National Convention.

Similarly, the Democrats will choose between Senator Estes Kefauver or an unopposed delegate to their National Convention.

U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler has only nominal opposition in today's Republican primary for nomination to a second six-year term. He is being opposed by Earl E. Knepper of Washington County and Henry J. Laque Jr. of Anne Arundel County.

The biggest contest today undoubtedly will be in the five-county contest for the Democratic nomination to oppose Senator Butler in November. Actually it boils down to a fight between George Perry Mahoney, a perennial candidate since 1950, and former U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings, who lost to Butler in 1950. Thomas L. Christian, Andrew J. Easter and George Washington Williams are expected to get only token support.

Three For Congress

The final choice for Democrats today will be a selection from among three Montgomery county candidates for the nomination for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District. The candidates are Robert W. Cremins, John R. Foley and J. Graham Walker.

Winner of that three-way fight will face Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde, who will seek election to a third term in November. Hyde is unopposed in the Republican primary so automatically has been certified as the party's candidate in the general election.

Although some interest has been aroused in the Mahoney-Tydings contest, only about 40 per cent of Maryland's registered voters are expected to cast ballots. Except in Garrett and St. Mary's counties they will be voting by machines.

As a result the winners should be known soon after the polls close.

Employment Up During March

BALTIMORE, May 6 (AP)—Employment in Maryland rose during March and a continued increase into the summer was predicted by the State Department of Employment Security.

Nonfarm employment during March climbed to 831,000, the department said. This was $7,200 higher than last March.

Several factors were cited as increasing employment in March—the return to work of striking Baltimore Transit Co. workers, the Easter shopping rush, and a seasonal gain in construction and real estate operations.

In predicting that the increase will continue, the department said most of the account will be on seasonal expansion in construction, foods and outdoor recreation activities. It also foresaw a further increase in practically all industries except shipbuilding and repairing.

While the average work week decreased from 40.7 hours in February to 40.4 hours in March, the average hourly wage jumped from $1.91 to $1.92. Since last March, average weekly earnings have gone up from $72.49 to $77.44, the department said.

W&L Alumni Convene

These were the principal figures at Saturday night's dinner meeting of the Upper Potomac Chapter of Washington and Lee University Alumni Association. They are, left to right, Donald F. Stine, this city, who will be graduated from the university next month; J. Goodloe Jackson, chapter president, and Dr. Walter A. Flick, W&L professor, who was the principal speaker.

Fire Association Takes Stand On Hospital Plan

Continued state operation of Miners Hospital in Frostburg was endorsed yesterday by the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association at its monthly meeting at the Accident Fire Hall.

Letters stating the association's position will be sent to both Governor Theodore R. McKeldin and State Senator Charles M. See.

Last Friday night officials of communities served by Miners Hospital met in Frostburg and made plans for presenting the case for continued state operation of the hospital before a Legislative Council committee in Baltimore May 16.

The association also voted to send a congratulatory telegram to Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde for his introduction in Congress of a bill which would enable volunteer fire companies to bid on federal surplus property.

Credentials for the association's annual convention to be held in Westernport June 7 have been received from 25 of the 31 companies in the association, according to Delbert Valentine, president.

David E. Kirk reported that plans are being prepared for the association to cooperate with the Allegany-Garrett Counties Insurance Underwriters Association and Cumberland Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker in coordinating publicity for the annual Fire Prevention Week.

Two more carnival dates were approved. Bowman's Addition has scheduled its carnival for June 11-6 with the parade the night of June 13. Borden Shaft has taken August 20-25 with a parade set for August 24.

McKeldin Gives Sunday Sermon

His personal experiences in visits to the Holy Land were used by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin to illustrate the Layman's Day sermon he preached at the 11 a. m. service yesterday at Centre Street Methodist Church.

Governor McKeldin was presented by Mayor Roy W. Eves, a member of the board of trustees of the church. The usual Sunday morning congregation attended, as no effort was made to get friends of the governor from other local churches to attend.

The state's chief executive came to Cumberland from Berkeley Springs, W. Va., where he spent the night after speaking at the state convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Hagerstown.

Rev. Harold L. May, assistant pastor of the church, officiated yesterday morning in the absence of Rev. Dr. Howard Amoss, who is attending the Methodist convention in Minneapolis.

W. L. Wilson Heads W&L Alumni

William L. Wilson, local attorney, was elected new president of the Upper Potomac Chapter of Washington and Lee University Alumni Association at the group's spring dinner meeting Saturday night at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Other new officers are Wesley Abrams, vice president; Thomas N. Berry, secretary-treasurer, and James A. Black and P. James Fahey, executive committee.

J. Goodloe Jackson, who is stepping down as president after a number of terms in that position, also will serve on the executive committee along with the officers.

Dr. Walter A. Flick, head of the Education and Psychology Department at W&L, and James H. Price Jr., associate secretary of the W&L Alumni Association, both spoke at the dinner meeting.

A special tribute was paid to Donald F. Stine, who will be graduated from W&L in June, by Victor D. Heisey, principal at Fort Hill High School, and William P. Hahn, Fort Hill coach. Stine was a 1952 Fort Hill graduate.

Easy As 1-2-3 To Ballot With Voting Machine

Voting by machine, though quick and simple, is unfamiliar to many Allegany counties who will be using voting machines for the first time in today's primary election.

Here's how it's done:

1. Move the large red operating lever to the right until the bell rings.
2. Turn down a voting pointer over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. Leave the pointers down.
3. Now move the red operating lever back to the left.

Man Charged With Breaking, Entering

A Baltimore man was taken into custody early yesterday morning at Fairgo by Maryland State Police and is being charged with breaking and entering.

Robert F. Steele, who was placed under $1,000 bond, is at Allegany County Jail and will be given a hearing this morning before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

Trooper Robert Wolford, who investigated, said a complaint of a noise was received from the neighborhood of Pershing Drive at Fairgo and upon investigation, Steele was found at the scene, arrested and taken to the city jail before being transferred to the county jail.

Police Probing Death Of Man Found In Alley

Authorities are investigating the death of a 69-year-old local man who was found Saturday night in an alley near the viaduct on North Centre Street and died a few hours later in Sacred Heart Hospital.

The victim was George Franklin McMullen of 124 Hanover Street, who according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, died of a brain hemorrhage. An autopsy was held.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya was notified of the incident by Dr. Deming and said a resident of Hay Street found McMullen lying in the alley and called police. This was about 11:20 p. m. Saturday.

McMullen died about 3:10 a. m. yesterday at the local hospital. City police said McMullen had fallen down steps at a local tavern Friday, and after being treated at a local hospital was jailed on a misdemeanor charge.

He was released from the jail on Saturday when a bond of $5 was posted. Authorities were called in to find out what McMullen did until late Saturday night when he was found in the alley.

A native of Eckhart Mines, he was a son of the late John Robert and Mary Virginia (Jordan) McMullen. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth (Lape) McMullen, a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Brady, of Oregon; two sisters, Mrs. Cora Ogden, LaVale, and Mrs. Virginia Fisher, Frostburg.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home.

Today's Sermonette

Salute the Church which is in his house. Colossians. 4:15.

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at Kingsley Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. Jacob H. Snyder. The sermon guests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

The Church In Thy House

By REV. JACOB H. SNYDER

Paul sent his greetings to the Christians in Laodicea, and especially to the people who are gathered in a certain house, presumably for the purpose of Christian worship. It is probable that as yet no Christian church has been built in this community and that they worshipped in the home of one of the families. This does not appear so unusual to many of us in this day. This is a day for thinking about the religion in our own houses. So many things appear in our day that call to us so many different places and things that it is time to decide to make the home a place in which our religion is nurtured to a greater degree than it is in many cases today.

Jesus' teachings are full of references to parents and children and to love which is nurtured and grows in the family. We believe that the family is an institution ordained of God. Jesus gave it new sacredness by associating the family with his religious thought. It is likely that Jesus learned the strength of love in his home in Nazareth. His family was not rich in things. Joseph was a carpenter in Nazareth and Jesus spent many days in the carpenter shop with his father learning the trade of a carpenter but also he learned of the rich bond of relationship which may exist between the members of the family and how the family may be tied more closely to God and in this way become richer. Even near the end of his life when he had no home of his own he enjoyed the homes of his friends. Time and again, especially when the way of life was difficult we find his going to the home of his close friends, Mary and Mar-

West Virginia Voters To Face Lengthy Ballots

Count May Take Up To Two Days

Voters in West Virginia, especially in most nearby counties, will be plagued with the longest primary election ballots on record when they go to the polls tomorrow.

Unlike Maryland, where voters in all but two counties will use voting machines in their primary election today, West Virginians must labor over complex ballots containing scores of names for dozens of offices.

Mineral County is a typical example.

The official Democratic primary ballot in that county measures just three inches short of a yard long and is over nine inches wide. It contains three columns of candidates, national, state and county, plus an extra list for New Creek District. There a total of 119 candidates listed on this ballot alone.

The party has a five-way contest for nominations for a United States Senator, a five-way race for governor, a six-way contest for state treasurer, seven seeking the nominee post for commissioner of agriculture, four candidates for state superintendent of schools, two for judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, and contests in other state positions.

Overize Ballots

On the county ticket, there is a contest for sheriff, House of Delegates and county and district executive committees.

The Republican ballot, also an oversized affair measuring about 27 inches long and 8½ inches wide, contains the names of 66 hopeful candidates. This ballot is also three columns wide with contests for national, state, county and Elk District offices.

Five men are seeking nomination for U. S. Senator, three candidates are listed for Congressman from the Second W. Va. District.

In the state contest, there are three GOP candidates for governor, two for state treasurer, two for commissioner of agriculture, two for judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, and two each for men and women of the state executive committee.

In the county race, four are seeking nomination for sheriff, two for prosecuting attorney, two each for House of Delegates and County Commission, and two for clerk of County Court, with other offices.

Election officials estimated that it will take each voter who marks the entire ballot five minutes or more to make his choices.

Long Count Expected

They also predict that complete returns from Tuesday's West Virginia primary will not be tabulated until late Wednesday or Thursday, since it will take hours in every voting place to tabulate so many names and such long ballots.

By contrast, Maryland's ballot today, on voting machines in most places, includes party contest for presidential preferences and contests for US Senate and Congress. In this county, Democrats will choose between Kefauver and an unopposed delegation; among five candidates for US Senate, and for three men for Congress.

The Republicans have a choice between Eisenhower and an unopposed delegation, and three candidates for US Senate with no contest for Congress.

Kiwanians To Hear Student Who Spent Year In Algeria

A young West Virginian from Hardy County who went to Algeria in North Africa last year under the International Farm Youth Exchange Program, will speak at the meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at 12:15 p. m. Thursday at Central YMCA.

He is George M. Williams, a 1954 graduate of Hampden-Sydney (Va.) College, who has been studying physics in the University of Virginia graduate school.

Young Williams was selected in 1955 from among all of the 4-H Club members in West Virginia to serve as a "good will" ambassador to Algeria.

Albert H. Hargreaves, program chairman, reports that Williams will illustrate his talk with a series of slides on his experiences in Algeria.

Women Injured In Collision Remain 'Poor'

Several Others Are Hospitalized

Two area women, injured in a highway crash Saturday near Fort Ashby on West Virginia Route 28, remain in "poor" condition at Memorial Hospital although they show some improvement.

They are Mrs. Elizabeth Gill, 41, wife of Walter Gill, Johnstown, Pa., and Mrs. Ethel Layton, 23, wife of George Layton of Fort Ashby. Three other persons were injured in the two-car crash.

Harry E. Rosenberger, 20, of RD 2, Frostburg, who was admitted to the same hospital with injuries sustained in an accident Friday near Finzel, is reported in "fair" condition.

Mrs. Gill was the driver of a car which reportedly swung out to pass a truck about a mile beyond Fort Ashby and crashed head-on into a car driven by Layton.

Passengers in the Layton car were his wife, his mother, Mrs. Jesse Layton, 49, and his sister, Miss Mary Lee Layton, 14. All were admitted to the hospital with the exception of Miss Layton.

Suffers Chest Injury

Attaches said Mrs. Gill suffered a chest injury, a bad contusion of the forehead and lacerations and abrasions. Layton suffered a lacerated scalp and injuries to his right knee and elbow.

His wife has a bad scalp laceration, abrasions and contusions. His mother sustained a chest injury, laceration of the right leg and a contusion of the forehead. Young Miss Layton was treated for abrasions of the nose and legs and was able to go home.

Police said Mrs. Gill was driving alone.

In the Friday mishap Rosenberger lost control of his car, which hit an embankment and upset.

Admitted Saturday morning to Sacred Heart Hospital were Miss Carolyn Martin, 15; her sister, Miss Jean D. Martin, 16, both of Mt. Savage, and Mrs. Helene Frankenberg, 27, of Painsville, Ohio, all of whom were injured when the car in which they were passengers went out of control and ran off Pea Vine Run road.

Driver of the automobile was identified as John G. Brant, 25, of Mt. Savage, by State Trooper R. D. Wolford who said the car was a total loss.

Two Car Collision

Two more persons were admitted Saturday morning to Sacred Heart as the result of a two-car crash on Sideling Hill Mountain.

Admitted were Hilary Brode, 45, of Frostburg, and his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Brode, 38, whose car collided with another vehicle operated by Hubert Sherman, 34, of Washington.

Investigating officers said the Brodes were traveling east, while Sherman was en route to Hyndman, Pa., to visit his step-mother, Mrs. G. N. Airgood. Sherman was released from the hospital after treatment of a chest injury and abrasions of the right foot.

Rival Candidates Make 11th-Hour Drive For Votes

Democrats Rest Cases With Voters

BALTIMORE, May 7 (AP)—George P. Mahoney and Millard E. Tydings, backed by some of their principal supporters, made television appeals to Maryland Democrats tonight on the eve of the State's primary election.

They, along with three lesser known candidates, are seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Mahoney listed what he said were the big issues in the campaign and wound up with these words to Maryland voters: "You're still the boss." Mrs. Mahoney also spoke and a recorded message from State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes was presented.

Compares Records

Tydings compared his record with that of Mahoney and then said: "I leave my case in your hands, content—if you will decide it on your conscience and good citizenship."

Appearing with the former senator were Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore, former Gov. William Preston Lane and Philip B. Perlman, former U.S. solicitor general.

Mahoney said he favors improvement of the Social Security system and aid for the small farmer and small businessman.

On the farm issue, he said, "... Our present farm policies are designed to give all the breaks to the gigantic farm combines. . . These are the fellows who create surpluses, which cause falling prices for the small farmer, while the big fellows receive large subsidies from the government."

"The small farmers, it seems to me, should have first claim on any government aid and planning, since they are the backbone of the country."

Mahoney said, "if you send me to Washington, I will be directly responsible to you and you alone. I will represent no special interests and all my votes on the Senate floor will be votes for you."

Backers Speak

Tawes, a likely candidate for governor in 1958, said: "George P. Mahoney is close to all the people of Maryland, has acquired by day-to-day contact and experience a real knowledge and understanding of their problems. He will ably represent all segments of our great State, courageously and fairly, without partiality to any class or interests."

Much of Tydings' final vote appeal was given over to D'Alesandro, Lane and Perlman.
